Fellowships in this directory are organized by state (and 3 Canadian fellowships). There are now 79 ACGME-accredited fellowships, and 12 ACAAM-accredited.*

Listings indicate which programs take applications via ERAS (the Electronic Residency Application Service) and which should be contacted directly (all fellowships welcome inquiries from potential candidates).

Addiction Medicine does not currently participate in the NRMP or any matching service – all fellowships follow their own timelines for applications, interviews and decisions.

* After 2021, only graduates of ACGME programs will be eligible for the Addiction Medicine certification exam, according to current guidance from the American Board of Preventive Medicine.
